

MFS® Variable Insurance Trust – MFS® New Discovery Series

MFS® New Discovery Series

Information as of 06/30/2021

This investment option is only available in the Personal Retirement Planner Non-Qualified product.

Description:

The investment objective of the MFS® New Discovery Series is to seek capital appreciation. The fund seeks to invest in small-cap growth companies that are or may become major enterprises, and when valuations are misaligned with fundamentals and growth potential. The fund has a consistent focus on small companies with significant growth potential across all market environments. A differentiated portfolio construction process is used to pursue diversification across three types of growth stocks: emerging, high quality durable, and companies in out of favor industries. This is an aggressive investment.

Beta: 0.94 (10 year)

Beta definition:

Beta provides a measure of a stock or fund's volatility relative to the market. The market is often defined by a certain benchmark, index or market average. The market's beta is 1. If a stock or fund is more volatile than the market, its beta will be higher than 1. If it is less volatile, the beta will be below 1. An investment that has a beta of 1.25 is believed to be more volatile than its market benchmark. For example, if the benchmark dropped 1 percent, then an investment with a beta of 1.25 is predicted to drop 1.25 percent. Remember, investment returns and principal value will fluctuate, so the value of your account, when redeemed, may be more or less than your original cost.
